Seaside Chosen For New Crime Abatement Project

Seaside city officials have been informed that the city has been chosen to participate in a state-financed crime abatement project.

According to Dukes-Dukes and Associates, a San Francisco consulting firm, action programs in conjunction with local agencies will be initiated. A study of the community is already underway.

Seaside is one of six California communities chosen for the project, according to Fred Reading, vice president of the consulting firm which is conducting the project under a contract with the California Council on Criminal Justice sponsored by the California Youth Authority.

Reading said that Seaside was chosen for the project because "there are probably enough of the right conditions in Seaside to conduct a successful study."

Following Readings explanation of the program to city officials last Tuesday, March 6, Mayor B. J. Dolan told him that "we're enthusiastic about your objectives," but added that he thought the headquarters should be in Seaside and not in the exclusive Ocean House Apartments in Monterey.

More direct, Councilman Steve Ross told Reading that "I'm not going along with any black or grey or green in Monterey - you live in Seaside and eat the same dirt we do - whatever we do we'll do together."

John Dukes, co-owner of the firm, then said that their preference was headquarters in Seaside and that they would try to find a place for Reading to live and work in the city.

Long range objectives of the project, which was described as "not correctional but preventive," will be a reduction in the "projected crime rate" of from 1 to 5 percent.

The project will be directed by a policy team of four representatives from CYA, four representatives of Dukes-Dukes and one local representative chosen by the city council.

Reading also added that an advisory committee of local people will help select the action programs.

Retail Business Seminar Today

Representatives of two retail clothing stores will meet with Seaside High School students today (Wednesday) for another in a series of career education seminars there.

Verlaine Crawford, part-time seminar coordinator for the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, said representatives from Walter's Fashions for Men and Boys and Pick-adilly World will meet with the students. They will discuss the retail fashion and clothing business. They will also talk about ways to obtain loans from the Small Business Administration.

The seminar will be held at 10:15 a.m. in the school's library.

As part of the school district's specially funded career education project, these seminars are being held with the representatives of local business firms to give students the opportunity to learn about the world of work and to help them make career choices.

DISNEYLAND VISIT - More than 80 members of Seaside High School Marching Band traveled to Disneyland for special Saturday afternoon (March 3) parade. Under direction of Jack Bayes, this talented group joined Walt Disney's famous cartoon characters for festive promenade down Park's Main Street. Stop at Disneyland took place after band's appearance in Tuscon at conference of music educators.

Pre-School Programs Will Close March 16

Pre-school programs operated at Noche Buena, Marina Del Mar and Bay View schools will be closed on March 16, trustees of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District were told recently.

Supt. Allan J. Petersdorf siad the district received word that state and federal authorities have cancelled the program as of March 5 and ill provide no more special funding.

He said nearly one-third of the 90 children enrolled in the three programs will qualify under new regulations, however, and will be absorbed into different child care programs being run at Noche Buena School and at the New Monterey Children's Center, at least until June 30. Those two children's centers will also be affected by federal cutbacks in education funding, but enough surplus is available to keep them operating through this fiscal year, he said. A permissive override tax is available to keep the two centers running next year, he said, suggesting that the board consider the future of the programs during upcoming budget discussions.

The federal government's money squeeze will also bring about the cancellation of an outdoor education program that had been planned this spring for children i. arget area" schools, he said. Federal aid to these schools has been chopped by nearly 10 percent effective this year.

Despite the bad news about cutbacks in special federal education programs, district administrators have just received the good news that federal impact funding this year will nearly reach last year's level, thereby making available about $200,000 in unexpected revenue. This year's budget had anticipated a $250,000 loss in impact aid, but word has been received that the loss will be only about $50,000. Impact funding, which was established to help local schools educate children of federally employed parents, has been a giant question mark all year. Funding was being carried through Feb. 28 under a continuing resolution while Congress and the administration struggled to settle differences over the future of the impact program. When the Feb. 28 deadline arrived with the matter still unresolved, another continuing resolution was passed which school officials have been told will insure funding through June 30.

The question of impact aid is vital to the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, which normally receives about $3 million in funding under the program.

More than half of the district's students come from federally employed parents, mostly in the military services. Close to 60 percent of the land area within the district's boundaries is federally owned, and thereby not included in the tax rolls that make up the district's financial base.

Petersdorf indicated that the additional $200,000 will be spent in accordance with conditions previously established by board and teacher representatives. The money will be divided into salary and program improvements, reserve accounts and other categories.

Appeals Court Denies Teacher Petition

A state court of appeal has denied a petition by teachers for a writ of mandate that would have prohibited the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District from using new evaluation guidelines adopted last August.

The denial came March 7 from Division Two of the First Appellate District, Court of Appeal of the State of California.

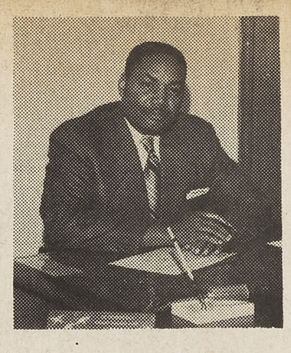
The Monterey Bay Teachers Association, the Certificated Employee Council and several teachers, as individuals, began their legal challenge of the school district's new evaluation procedures in December, taking the issue to the Monterey County Superior Court. The teachers charged that the school board had violated the Winton Act by adopting new evaluation guidelines without first meeting and conferring with the Certificated Employee Council. That body was established by the Winton Act of 1965 to represent teachers in dealings with the school board, and to insure teacher participation in matters affecting their welfare. Superior Court Judge Stanley Lawson ruled, however, that in developing and adopting evaluation procedures the school board had met requirements of the Stull Act, which mandated the new evaluation system. Judge Lawson said the Winton Act of 1965 does not control the Stull Act, which was passed in 1971.

On February 21, the teachers carried the issue to the California Supreme Court, asking the high court to issue an injunction to prevent use of the guidelines and to further order the school board to meet and confer on the guidelines with the Certificated Employee Council. The teachers claimed that the Winton Act does apply to guidelines ordered by the Stull Act. The supreme court refused to act on the matter, directing it down to the court of appeals.

Paul R. DeLay, deputy Monterey County counsel for school affairs, explained that Wednesday's denial by the appeals court amounts to a refusal by that court to exercise "original jurisdiction," but still leaves open to teachers "normal channels of appeal." The teachers had bypassed normal channels in seeking the writ of mandate, claiming that the matter must be resolved by March 15, the date by which probationary teachers all over the state must be notified if they may not be rehired for the next school year.

The district's school board has maintained throughout the legal battle that it is willing to meet and confer with the Certificated Employee Council, if that group will make a formal request to do so, and if that request includes specifics as to what parts of the evaluation guidelines are to be discussed. To date, the Certificated Employee Council has not made a formal request to meet and confer on the matter.

Steve Ross Appointed To State Committee



Steve Ross, Vice-Mayor, City of Seaside has been appointed a member of the League of California Cities Policy Committee on Human Resources Development by Thomas J. Mellon, President of the League.

The purpose of the committee is to be concerned with manpower problems, unemployment, poverty, aged and youth affairs, new careers, minority relations and training for all of the more than four hundred cities in the state of California, which make up the league.

It will be the responsibility of the policy committee as a major element of the Action Plan to receive and assess the recommendations relating to human resources development received from the divisions and departments of the league, based on the issue papers of the alternatives which will be, or have been, distributed.

Ted C. Wills, Mayor of Fresco, California is Chairman of the policy Committee, and Nathaniel Bates, Councilmen and former Mayor of Richmond, California is Vice-Chairman. The first meeting of the committee will be held in the International Hotel, Los Angeles on March 16.

I have been keeping up with the high officials who have been blasting crime in the streets of our nation. President Nixon says his newly developed plan is aimed at getting rougher with criminals or those who break the law. Governor Reagan says he favors the return of the death penalty. Mayor Dolan is blasting vandlism in our own schools. I have been trying to deter crime with kindness and better understanding of what makes people function. It may seem none of us are succeeding. But we are. It is just a slow process, and we must keep in mind that the hardened law-breaker is aware that he has to be a bit more careful and smarter in order to get away with his crime. Even those who are caught has to act over-convincing in order to appear he has been rehabilitated.

A few months ago a fellow by the name of Lee Gaffney, a user of LSD, was discharged from Atascadero State Hospital as a sane man. He had been there since 1968 following his brutal knife murder of a friend.

Not long ago, he killed another man with a knife. This time it was his father.

In both cases, the killer was on acid. In both cases he showed almost superhuman strength. In both cases the assault was sudden, furious, totally deranged.

Lee Gaffney's new-found sanity hadn't lasted very long.

Unfortunately, bizarre as the details are, this basically is not too unusual a case. Record after record exists of killers who escape long prison sentences because of findings of insanity, were released as cured and repeated their crimes.

Society can be faced with this dreadful threat no longer. There should be more exact and reliable readings of sanity available, or if now on hand, used in appropriate criminal cases.

We need answers. We need answers to the

ARMY RECRUITER

Hi everyone.

This June, American high schools will graduate over three million seniors. Now that the war has ended and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird has officially terminated the draft, TODAY'S ARMY, to comply with President Nixon's directive for a volunteer force, will be striving to convince 185,000 graduates that they should look to TODAY'S ARMY for their first full-time job.

In an effort to attract the outstanding prospect, TODAY'S ARMY has energetically sought to improve its position in three prominent areas cited by young people as having the most allure: job training and experience, travel and educational opportunities and the chance for self development. It is now possible, for instance, for an enlistee to choose not only which particular job he or she would like, but where he or she would like to perform it. This included Army installations anywhere in the world.

To attract and retain the bright high school graduate, TODAY'S ARMY has refined its educational programs for young men and women on all levels. At some installations, enlisted men and women can continue their schooling without leaving base. These installations offer accredited courses taught by professors from nearby universities. TODAY'S ARMY covers up to three quarters of tuitional costs.

During the month of February eight men and two women enlisted in TODAY'S ARMY. Anne R. Foren, 1174 Olympia St., Seaside, enlisted for our Medical Care and Treatment Enlistment Option. And she chose Europe as her place to work: Kimberley T. Smith, 202 Normandy Rd., Ft. Ord, enlisted for Data Communications Terminal Specialist with the Strategic Communications Command and chose Colorado as her working site. Dow Woolhiser, 457 Kelly Ct., Marina, took advantage of the $15000 Bonus and has a minimum guarantee of 16 months in Europe. Patrick M. Tracy, 2872 Ranstord, Pacific Grove and Gary L. Thompson of Fort Ord, also enlisted for the $1500 Bonus. And both of them chose Ft. Lewis, Washington as their duty station with a 16 month minimum guarantee. Stephen E. Holmes, 810 Taylor St., Monterey, enlisted for the Medical Care and Treatment Option and will receive his practical work at Ft. Ord with a minimum guarantee of 12 months. James H. Bennett of Carmel enlisted for the Strategic Communications Command Enlistment Option and chose his place of duty in Maryland. John L. Comstock also enlisted the Strategic Communications Command Enlistment Option. John resided at 222 Hennessey, Fort Ord. He will be trained in Fixed Station Technical Controller.

For more information concerning our opportunities and technical training, we may be contacted at 431 Webster St., Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553.

Your Child's Dental Hygiene

by S/SGT Tony Sison
Retired USA Dental Hysienist

Good teeth start in childhoos and there are things parents can do to help insure that their offspring have a minimum of dental health problems both in childhood and in later years.

The American Dental Association listed four simple rules, which if followed faithfully, can help to reduce dental decay. These are:

(1) Cut down on sweets, especially between meals.

(2) Brush teeth immediately after eating. (Snacks as well as regular meals)

(3) Have regular dental check-ups. This enables the dentist to discover decay and other problems at early stages. Just as with other diseases, early treatment of dental disease is easier and more likely to be effective.

(4) Fluoridation of community water supplies greatly reduces decay, says the ADA. Where water supplies are not fluoridated, scientists may suggest applying fluride directly to the children's teeth.

Sugar is named as the major cause of tooth decay. Bacteria that are always present in the mouth act by sugar to produce acids. These acids attack the teeth. Of course, sugar also is an important part of the diet. But it can be controlled. Nibbling on sweets throughout the day is hard on the teeth. Eat your candy all at once, then brush you teeth. Help your chiildren brush their teeth. "It's is a clean tooth that never ached."

Dental authorities agree that the child shoud make his first visit to the dentist at about the age of 3 years. By this age all the baby teeth will be in, and the dentist can check for any minute sign of decay or any malformation which might lead to more serious problems later. ADA has found that dental patients under the age of 4 years have an average of 3 or 4 teeth needing filling.

Sound teeth in childhood can prevent many dental problems in later life. Regular dental care is an important part of the overall health care of the family.

Joyce Renee Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Washington, Jr., of Seaside, was united in marriage recently with Ernest Earl Harrison of Fort Ord. Rev. G.E. Ellis officiated the rites in the home of the brides parents.

The bride wore a floor length white gown, featuring the empire waistline, finger tip sleeves with the victoria neckline. Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place by an oval pearl comb. She carried a bouquet of baby white roses and carnations. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Patricia Taylor of San Diego, who wore a two piece long blue dress. She carried white roses and blue carnations to compliment her dress.

The bridesgroom chose his now brotherin-law, Captain Ron Taylor of Camp Pendleton, San Diego, to serve as best man.

The bride graduated from Monterey High School in 1971. She is presently a student at Monterey Peninsula College. Her other sisters are Peaches and Cheryl Washington of Seaside. Shs has one brother, Daniel Washington, also of Seaside.

Prior to entering the United States Army from Baltimore, Maryland, Harrison graduated from Northern Hash High He is the son of Mrs. Leah Harrison of Nashville and the late Thomas Harrison. He has four sisters, Carolyn Alston, Barbara Hunter, Mary and Sandra Harrison. His brothers are Kenneth, James, Benjamin, Sidney and Charles Harrison. All are living on the East Coast.

Approximately 25 close friends and family attended the wedding, and enjoyed a delicious feast immediately following the ceremony.

MPC PLAY

Benjamin Britten's opera "Turn of the Screw," an adaptation from Henry James' novel, will be performed at Monterey Peninsula College by the Western Opera Theater on Saturday, March 24.

The performance, produced by the San Francisco Opera, will start at 8 p.m. in MPC's Theatre. Western is a non-profit educational and touring subsidiary of San Francisco Opera.

The opera, in two acts, is the confusing story of a possibly paranoid governess. There seems to be a pair of ghosts haunting and trying to destroy two children. The governess and a housekeeper become enmeshed in solving this mystery. Reviewers say it is "one of the subtlest of all ghost stories and one of the finest operas of modern times."

Soprano Ariel Bybee plays the governess; tenor Douglas Ahlstedt, ghost Peter Quint; and mezo-soprano Evelyn Petros, the housekeeper. All three are in their second season with Western Opera and hold most of the responsibility for the show.

Admission is $2.50, and tickets are available at Lily Walker Music Store, Pacific Grove; at Abinante Music, Monterey; Carmel Music, Carmel; and at MPC's Community Services. For information, call Community Services at 375-9821, ext. 335.

question: how long before a realistic meld of legal and medical expertise assures us a just, humane, and workable solution to the sad and alarming problem of the criminally insane?

In the Santa Cruz area there are signs, advertisements in newspapers, broadcasts over radio, or any number of ways to put the information into the public's mind: No Hitching Until That Nut Is Caught.

On the brighter side: Brighter side? Well this is about the rain if you can call that bright: We all know that there has been some type of record set in the past months as far as inches of rain. But I nver paid too much attention to it, except try to dry out everytime I came home.

One evening I came home and heard some commotion in the back yard. I looked out and most of the staff writers were out there just hammering and nailing and measuring as if their life depended on it. I ran out and inquired as to what was going on. Someone had read in The Book something about someone else in the distant past receiving a word of warning about a great flood. T hey passed the word along and I suppose some of them panicked. There was Vicky hammering, with Charlene gathering nails, Mel Vercoe (a carpenter by trade) was the supervisor, plus a few other people pitching in like Richard Allen, Cisco, and even Asia was doing his little part.

I left them alone because I was wet and all I wanted to do right then was to dry out and rest. I blanked out the noise of the building commotion until there was a knock at the door. There stood Rev. Hooper and Brother Christopher with lumber and building material in each hand. That blew my mind. Maybe there was something to this forty-day warning.

It pays to be prepared.

That goes for everything. Someone came to Salinas about six weeks ago and looked the situation over. They decided that now that city was ready for a top-notch ball team. They negotiated with the leading ball clubs and were able to obtain a few players from each club. They brought these players to Salinas and started them to practice. Then they announced: "THE RETURN OF THE PACK"

It has been approximately eight years since the Salinas Packers were an active ball club. Salinas has a top-notch Stadium. It has top-notch management for the team. But most of all it has enthusiasim. The energy has been generated by a young lady named Leevon. Once you talk with Leevon you are as enthused as she is about the new club.

Marvin Milkes, vice-president, with 27 years of sports management behind him says: "I would rather be creative, than to maintain."

Les Patrick, general manager, says he expects a "high percentage" of the 265,000 peninsula fans to attend each game.

Jim Saul, player-manager, announced that the players will leave their camp on April 9th and arrive in Salinas on April 10th. There will be open house on April 11th and 12th.

Watch this newspaper for all the latest developments and schedules of the SALINAS PACKERS.

It always happens that when I become involved in some real deep conversation with you people, it is time to close. So I will have to say longer "goodbyes" next week. Keep your upper lip stiff.

If you have some of your own children either in junior college state college, or at the University of California, I thought you might be interested in a pronouncement by California's only Black college president. In a recent address he stated that the publich should realize that not everyone can or should go to college.

Dr. James G. Bond, president of California State University at Sacramento stated in a recent address that the University should be a place where students come to learn and risk being changed in the process. He criticized students who go to school to change it instead of to learn. Bond emphasized that colleges cannot afford to admit all who want to attend. To do so is to derogate the meaning of the degree (B.A.) by stretching it and stretching it until we've turned out certified incompetents. He pointed out that colleges are not social agencies or industrial firms, he said he believed people who attended our universities should leave them better than when they entered.

Along with his criticism of universal higher education and student activism he chided higher education and the society in general for its lack of moral standards. Despite the hue and cry that our young people are more moral than we ever were, he said, I haven't experienced that, but I wish they were. Further he said students and others increasingly cite their legal rights, but not their moral responsibilities. He went on to say there is a very big difference between what is right and what is legally permissible--legal maximums are usually moral minimums, he stated.

I think most people would agree with President Bond that our colleges and universities must provide the leadership to students to provide moral and ethical leadership for our society.

ROGER POYNER

"A journey of a thousand miles begins with but a single step."

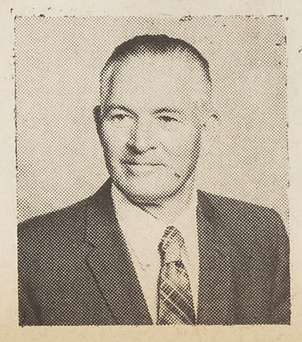
The County of Monterey and the City of Seaside have together taken that first step toward establishing county welfare and health services in Seaside. At an historic first meeting at the Seaside City Hall, top city and county officials agreed that they will be working together in selecting a proper site for such county services. Mr. Ed McCauley, the County's chief administrative officer, stated that the present courthouse location of the welfare department would soon be inadequate and would have to move "off the hill" to a better location. I believe that the proper location would be on upper Broadway in Seaside and house not only the welfare department, but county health care and other services as well.

The really additional problem of adequate health care services in Seaside and the responsibility of the County to provide them was also discussed. Mr. Tom Kenan was present at the meeting and is the Director of Health Services for the County. (Mr. Kenan was a former commanding general at Ft. Ord) Earlier he and I met with members of the Board of Directors of the Harambe Free Medical Clinic and its executive director, Lenzy Donaldson. Again, this was an important first step. Health care availability problems in Seaside are not going to be solved overnight. The old county philosophy that if a poor person needed medical attention he had to go to the County Hospital in Salinas to get it is now fading.

Before we take our second step I wish to thank the City of Seaside and particularly Mayor Dolan, Councilman Ross and Lenzy Donaldson for their immediate concern, interest and help.

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE



"Lois, I just had to call you and tell you the wonderful news. Dave is going to go away for ten years, and it's just what our marriage needed."

"That's great, Marge. I know you haven't been getting along very well. Where's he going? Is the company transferring him to a foreign country?"

"Better than that, Lois. It's the new law the President is going to get passed. You must have heard about it."

"Oh, sure. Henry was talking about it when he got home last night, and he said Dave was really tickled. They got into an argument about it with two other guys after work."

"What was there to argue about? The President wants to bring back the death penalty and put major drug pushers away for ten years, and he's right."

"Sure, he's right, but one of these guys said he still didn't like Nixon, and Dave said he didn't either but if he brought back the death penalty he'd vote for him when he runds for a third term in 1976. Henry had to pull them apart."

"Well, Dave didn't tell me about that, and anyway, how could he run for a third term? I thought two terms was the limit."

"It is, but Dave told Henry that if the President can get the people shook up enough to punish criminals, then he can do anything, and, anyway, he said it wouldn't be anything new. A couple dozen Senators in South Korea held a special meeting one night when nobody knew about it, and they fixed it so President Park could stay on. But tell me about the trip Dave is going on. Will he be travelling most of the time?"

"No, I don't think so. He'll just be in one place, I guess. Mostly it's because of a misunderstanding, but there won't be anything anybody can do about it. After all, the law is the law, and when the President passes the new law to put major drug pushers in prison for ten years, then Dave will just have to go, because he is a liquor salesman just like your husband, Henry, and alcohol is a drug just like heroin and marijuana, only it does more damage, so I guess you might as well get used to not seeing Henry."

"Oh, happy day, what a relief that will be. Wow, ten years without having to press a shirt. I must write to the President and thank him. Goodbye, Marge."

LAGUNA GRANDE PROJECTS

The City of Seaside has advised the Redevelopment Agency of our construction goals that should recieve priority during the fifth project year of Laguna Grande. In order to familiarize our citiznes with these projects, this week's report is lengthy but describes in detail the development that is essential to our city.

Construction Projects:

1) Fremont Boulevard Channelization and Beautification. The project limits are from city limits of Monterey northerly to Broadway Avenue. We understand that the city will pay for all improvements outside the Laguna Grande boundary which is from Trinity Avenue north. To be included in the Fremont Channelization is the realignment of Hilby to the west of Fremont Boulevard as shown on the Official Plan Line. The purpose of the realignment is for traffic safety as well as for the improved flow of traffic through the Laguna Grande Project. Estimated cost, not including land acquisition, $300,000. City Share, $100,000.

2) Fremont Boulevard and Canyon Del Rey Intersection. This project will involve regrading of Fremont at State Highway 218 and will include relocation of traffic islands. The city share for this project will be the installation of traffic signals utilizing TOPICS and SB 325 funds. Estimated cost, $100,000. City share, $40,000 (for signals).

3) The construction of Fremont Storm Drain System from Francis Avenue southerly to Laguna Grande should coincide or preceed Item 1 above. The purpose of this project is to upgrade existing lines as well as provide adequate drainage for Fremont Blvd. within the Laguna Grande Project. Estimated cost, $50,000.

4) In addition to the last mentioned storm drain project, it will be necessary to construct a Storm Drain Box Culvert between Fremont Blvd. and Laguna Grande so that the land in the area may be properly filled and landscaped in order that it may be utilized as a park within the Laguna Grande Project. Estimated cost, $50,000.

5) The Regrading of Del Monte Boulevard is an essential part of the planned development between the two existing lakes adjacent to the railroad. Construction will involve the raising of the existing qa roadway to grade in order to properly serve adjacent properties and to eliminate winter flooding. Estimated cost, $80,000.

6) The Reconstruction of Existing State Highway 218, better known as Canyon Del Rey Boulevard is considered essential as it is in disrepair. It is the intent of the city to request the Division of Highways to reconstruct this raodway. As this highway is a major arterial through Laguna Grande Project, it is considered essential that it be reconstructed, if not by the state possibly by the Redevelopment Agency. No matter which jurisdiction constructs the roadway, it will be necessary to purchase additional right-of-way which will mean removal of existing dwellings along the north side of Canyon Del Rey between Harcourt and Amador Avenues. Estimated cost, not including acquisition of right-of-way, $200,000.

7) Aproject not mentioned is the Plan Line Construction of Hillsdale from Harcourt Avenue to Hilby Avenue. In addition, it is recommended that three deficient sanitary sewer mains be replaced. They are as follows: 560 lin. ft. of six-inch steel in Harcourt Avenue adjacent to City Hall, 200 lin. ft. of eight-inch CMP under the proposed alignment of Hillsdale as mentioned above, and replacement of 800 lin. ft. of twelve-inch corrugated steel pipe in Canyon Del Rey. Estimated cost of the construction of the Hillsdale Alignment and the replacement of three sanitary sewers is $30,000.

8) An important aspect of the development of Laguna Grande into the type of project anticipated will mean the upgrading of the existing Sanitation Pumping Station at the corner of Del Monte and Canyon Del Rey. To accomplish the increasing pumping demands anticipated, Lift Station Modifications will be necessary at a cost of approximately $50,000.

9) A project which we would like to be considered, but probably will not fall in the fifth year of the project is the construction of Broadway Extension. This project will be a necessary tie from the main part of the city, that of Broadway, across the railroad track into the city of Sand City as well as providing a major through route of traffic from the K-Mart Shopping Center. Estimated cost, not including signalization, $150,000.

Officer Robert (Bob) Ingeman

Officer Bob Ingeman joined the Seaside Police Department in July, 1970 after spending 4 1/2 years with Crocker Bank as the Installment Loan Manager and 1 1/2 years as Assistant Manager of Public Finance.

A native of Wisconsin, Bob was born and raised in Milwaukee. In 1951, his family moved to San Jose, where Bob graduated from Abraham Lincoln High School, then joined the Navy as an Aviation Structural Mechanic. During the four years he spent with the Navy, Bob attended Structural Mechanic School in Memphis Tenn. (which he stated is the only place he has been where there are signs placed on the lawns "dogs and sailers keep off."). After graduating from Structural Mechanic school, Bob was assigned to Southern California and toured the Far East on two different occasions. On one of these tours, Bob experienced one of the highlights of his military career, this was when he climbed to the top of Mt. Fujiyama (Mt. Fuji) which is a Volcanic mountain near Tokyo, Japan. Bob stated that it took about a day and a half to reach the top.

After returning from military service and climbing mountains, Bob resumed his education by entering San Jose City College majoring in Police Science. While attending San Jose City College, Beb went to work with Public Finance, and shortly thereafter married and discontinued his classes at San Jose City College. After spending 1 1/2 years as Public Finance Bob went to work for Crocker Bank and was transfered to the Monterey Peninsula. After spending 4 1/2 years with the bank, Bob still longed for a career in law enforcement, enrolling in Police Science classes at Monterey Peninsula College. He also applied for a position with the Seaside Police Department and was hired in July, 1970. Bob finished his classes at MPC in January of this year and will graduate in June. His plans include enrollment in Golden Gate to obtain his BS Degree in Administration of Justice.

Outside his job as a police officer, Bob enjoys golfing and tennis. Since there are no mountains in this area which are challenging enough for Bob, he is content to spend most of his off duty time home with his wife and three children. It is indeed a pleasure to have a person of Bob's caliber working with the Seaside Police Department.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: I know you are well informed on the usual government issues, but I especially want you to know how important I think the new Forest Practice Act--SB 5 proposed by Sen. John A. Nejedly of Contra Costa County, and adopted recently by the State Senate--truly is to ALL the people of California.

We hear so much these days about "the state" and the "peoples of the state," but REMEMBER that your readers ARE "the state" -- and that it is up to them to be indormed, and up to us to help them, on all government issues.

SB 5 considers all of the forest resources--fish, wildlife, and recreational values, as well as timber itself--in a most constructive and balanced manner. We, in the Department of Conservation, endorse it en toto, knowing full well that we are the agency of "the people" who will have to enforce its regulations, which add up to even stricter controls for the logging industry than our previous very tough ones.

I would like to let everyone know how deeply I value the forest lands of California, and how we ALL must preserve, and also use properly, all these lands under our protection.

Therefore, I urge your readers to help get behind this bill by first of all writing their Assemblyman, and next by supporting this bill within any of their local organizations.

Sincerely,
Ray B. Hunter, Director
Department of Conservation
Sacramento

Editor:

On behalf of the Monterey Peninsula Y.M.C.A., I want to thank you for your efforts in assisting the Y to publicize the benefit program held on February 17th at MPC.

As with many other programs of this kind, the financial benefits derived were substantially less than what was anticipated, although certainly not due to a lack of publicity which you so generously gave.

Notwithstanding my disappointment at the poor results, I believe that we obtained some valuable public exposure for the YMCA and would hope that we will get some carry over when we start our annual fund raising campaign in approximately one month. I hope that I can call on you again for assistance.

Very truly yours,

Charles R. Keller

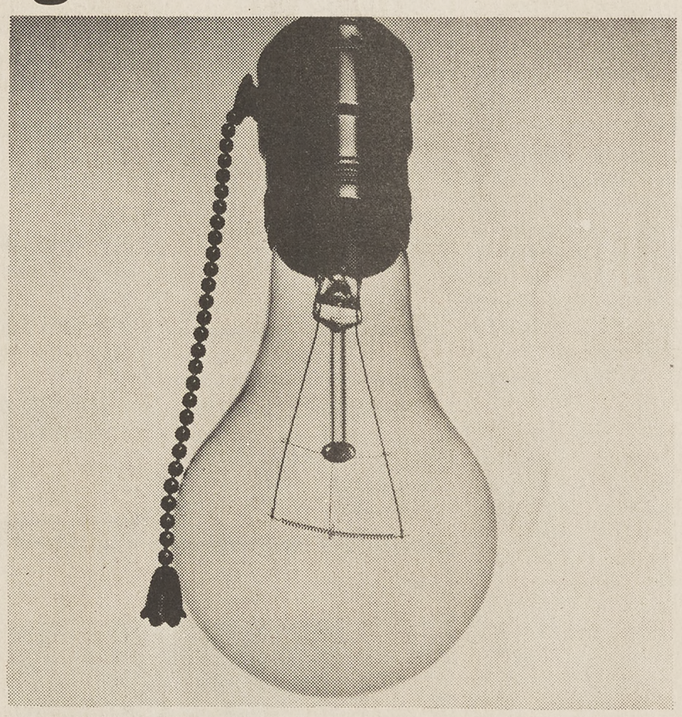
You can no longer take for granted what you've always taken for granted.



Touch a switch and the electricity goes on. You do it every day without even thinking about it because electricity is always there. And we want to keep it that way.

There have been no brownouts or blackouts here because PG&E has built new electric facilities on schedule as needed. And there's plenty of electricity here today and plenty in construction or planned to meet growing public needs and consumer demand through 1979.

But if our construction program is slowed down unduly or stopped, there definitely could be brownouts or blackouts here. We build ahead to prevent such problems. And we must continue building, because nowadays it takes about 10 years to acquire a suitable site, obtain regulatory approvals, construct and get a major power plant "on the line."

Some claim growth and progress are at an end or should be, and that therefore more electric power capacity is not necessary.

The fact is that power demands are going to continue to increase. And PG&E must meet these demands reliably and on time or there will be power shortages. We are doing our job now and are ready, willing and able to keep on doing it. Moreover, qualified, competent and responsible public agencies assure that in doing so we serve the best public interests, including environmental and ecological considerations.

To keep your electricity on tomorrow, we must build today. PG and E

Name New Business Manager

Herb Fields, owner of the Salinas Packers, has named Larry Schulman Business Manager of the new ballclub.

Schulman, a native of southern California and a graduate of Califotnia State University, Los Angeles in Recreation is not foreign to the Salinas area. He was assigned to the army special services section at nearby Fort Ord and at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation.

"Larry (Schulman) brings energy, dedication, and a true love for baseball to our ballclub," said Fields.

When asked about his return to the Salinas area Schulman remarked "I've never seen a community rally behind a program with such enthusiasm in such a short amount of time as the people of Salinas have towards the Salinas Packers. This town will be a pleasure to work for."

"The fans who support the Packers are going to know that they have been entertained when they leave the ballpark. We've got many surprizes scheduled for them," he added.

The Packers have established their main office at the Monterey Savings and Loan located on the corner of Main St. and Alisal. The Packers may be reached 24 hours a day by calling the Packer Hot Line 758-0968.

Photographer Ron James is exhibiting his work in a one-man show for the month of March at the Seaside City Hall. James started using the camera early, he said, "I can remember swapping wants for Christmas with my cousin. He wanted a new bicyle and I wanted a camera. I got what I wanted. I was thirteen at the time. I grew up with that camera beside me."

In his senior year in high school Ron won second place in a contest sponsored by Popular Photography magazine. The prize was $500.

Mr. James entered the Engineering department at Michigan State University and remained on friendly terms with engineering for two years. After that he studied a year each in the art, journalism and psychology departments.

During his senior year at college, James won a photography contest sponsored by the University of Missouri, LIFE magazine, and the Encyclopedia Brittanica. This entitled him to an expense paid trip to LIFE magazine, which, as he relates, "...provided an opportunity to hang around there for a week." The experience at LIFE was disappointing. He said, "there was a feeling of very still competition and rivalry and that feeling wasn't doing anything to encourage my interest in photography, at least not in photo-journalism."

James returned home and began working for the home town newspaper and helped the owner make the change from letterpress to offset printing.

This one-man show of photography will be on view during the regular office hours during the weekdays, from 8 to 5, according to Chairman Lee of the Seaside Art Commission, which sponsors this exhibit.

Girl Scout Week Ends Saturday

March 11 - 17 is Girl Scout Week and across the nation almost 4 million girls, men, and women members are celebrating the 61st Anniversary of Girl Scouts in the USA.

The seven thousand girls and adults of the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council, covering the counties of Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey are joining in the week with many activities in each of their communities.

The emphasis in Girl Scouting is on learning and doing today. Girl Scouts serve their communities; they make friends and have fun; they prepare today for the leadership roles they will have tomorrow.

Each day in Girl Scout Week highlights an aspect of their learning while doing projects: Sunday - Religious Observances; Monday - Homemaking; Tuesday - Citizenship; Wednesday - Health and Safety; Thursday - International Friendship; Friday - the Arts; Saturday - the Out-of-Doors.

The Girl Scouts of Seaside and Del Rey Oaks will have a display in the Seaside City Hall for the month of March with crafts and bedge projects done by the girls. Chinese artist, Daniel Wang, presented a demonstration for the girls March 9. An Interfaith church service was held for girls of the entire Peninsula at Faith Lutheran Church on March 11. The service was conducted by Rev. Walter J. Vrudny, Father Charlie, and Rev. C. Lewis McFadden with a these of PEACE. Also participating were Senior Scout Karen Lamb and Cadette Glenda Lambert.

Throughout the Monterey area the sale of Girl Scout cookies has been extended through the week of March 11-17, because of the inclement weather, rather than stopping March 11.

Girl Scout Week will be climaxed by an event entitled "Around the World With 80 Troops" to be held Saturday, March 17 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Monterey County Fairgrounds in the Agricultural Hall. The many troops of all age levels in the Monterey Bay area will present dances, songs, displays, and customs from the countries represented by the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides. The committee coordinating this international event were Mrs. Charles Carroll of Marina, Mrs. W.A. Foster of Seaside, Mrs. Robert Wildt of Fort Ord, Mrs. Allen Fuhs of Carmel, and Mrs. Eric Short of Monterey. As part of the program Mrs. Robert Bank's Troop 2061 - Appalachians; Mrs. Donald Starbird's Troop 2011 - Dutch Dance; Mrs. Lucius Spears's Troop 2081 - Hawaiian Dance; and Mrs. Tommy Woods's Troop 2100 - Phillippines. Displays will be exhibited by Mrs. Andrew Brown and Mrs. Majestic Manning's Troop 2026 - Liberia; Mrs. Catherine Gida's Troop 2058 - Germany; Mrs. Kenneth Holt and Mrs. Richard Silva's Troop 2006 - Alaska; Mrs. Han Lee and Mrs. Chuck Shaffer's Troop 2029 - Italy; Mrs. John Sheppard's Troop 2136 - International; and Mrs. Carolyn Weeks's Troop 2092 - Ireland. Also from Marina, Mrs. Richard Pagneillo's Troop 2062 will perform a square dance; Mrs. Lonnie Ray Mackie's Troop 2150 - a circle dance; and Mrs. Donald Felix's Troop 2167 - Small World.
